FOSTERING PEER TO PEER BUSINESS LEARNING AMONGST CHARTER MEMBERS OF TIE RAJASTHAN

TiE Charisma Circles is a new initiative of TiE Rajasthan being launched this year. Inspired by the 'TiE Cohorts' program conceptualised by Murali Bukkapatnam, Kali Prasad Gadiraju and run by TiE Hyderabad; TiE Rajasthan committee comprising of the Governing Council members- Rajneesh Bhandari, Chirag Patel and President Sheenu Jhawar have deliberated intensely to understand and capture the local parlance, the culture, and the value that can be brought back to the Charter Member community by creating a brand new entity called 'TiE

Charisma Circles.' VISION AND PURPOSE

The TiE framework stands around 5 pillars -Networking, Mentoring, Funding, Incubation and Education.

While the Charter Members of TiE get together for this ethos, and willingly give their time back to the entrepreneurial ecosystem, they themselves are also moving on a path of growth- in terms of business scale and scope. Networking offers that.

Charisma Circles is to create such an entity to bring back to each of its Charter Members the compounded strength of the knowledge and experience of the total CM pool. These circles, structured as small, dynamic groups, aim to harness the collective expertise and diverse perspectives of their members to drive meaningful growth and innovation.

However, with the Vision to foster cohesive interpersonal learning, a more structured and sustainable entity was required. The vision behind TiE

In late June, interior design service provider Modsy stopped offering its services without warning. While its website remained active at the time, the company deleted its Facebook and Twitter profiles and privated its Instagram account in the weeks that followed. The shuttering of these channels made it difficult for customers with unfinished projects and unfulfilled orders to contact the fallen startup about refunds. More than 2 weeks after the company closed its doors and laid off its designers, former customers were still scramblingto attain what they were owed. TESTIMONIAL TIE STARTUP MEMBER Session organised by TIE Rajasthan session on "Empowering Startup Mindset for Growth" was insightful.
